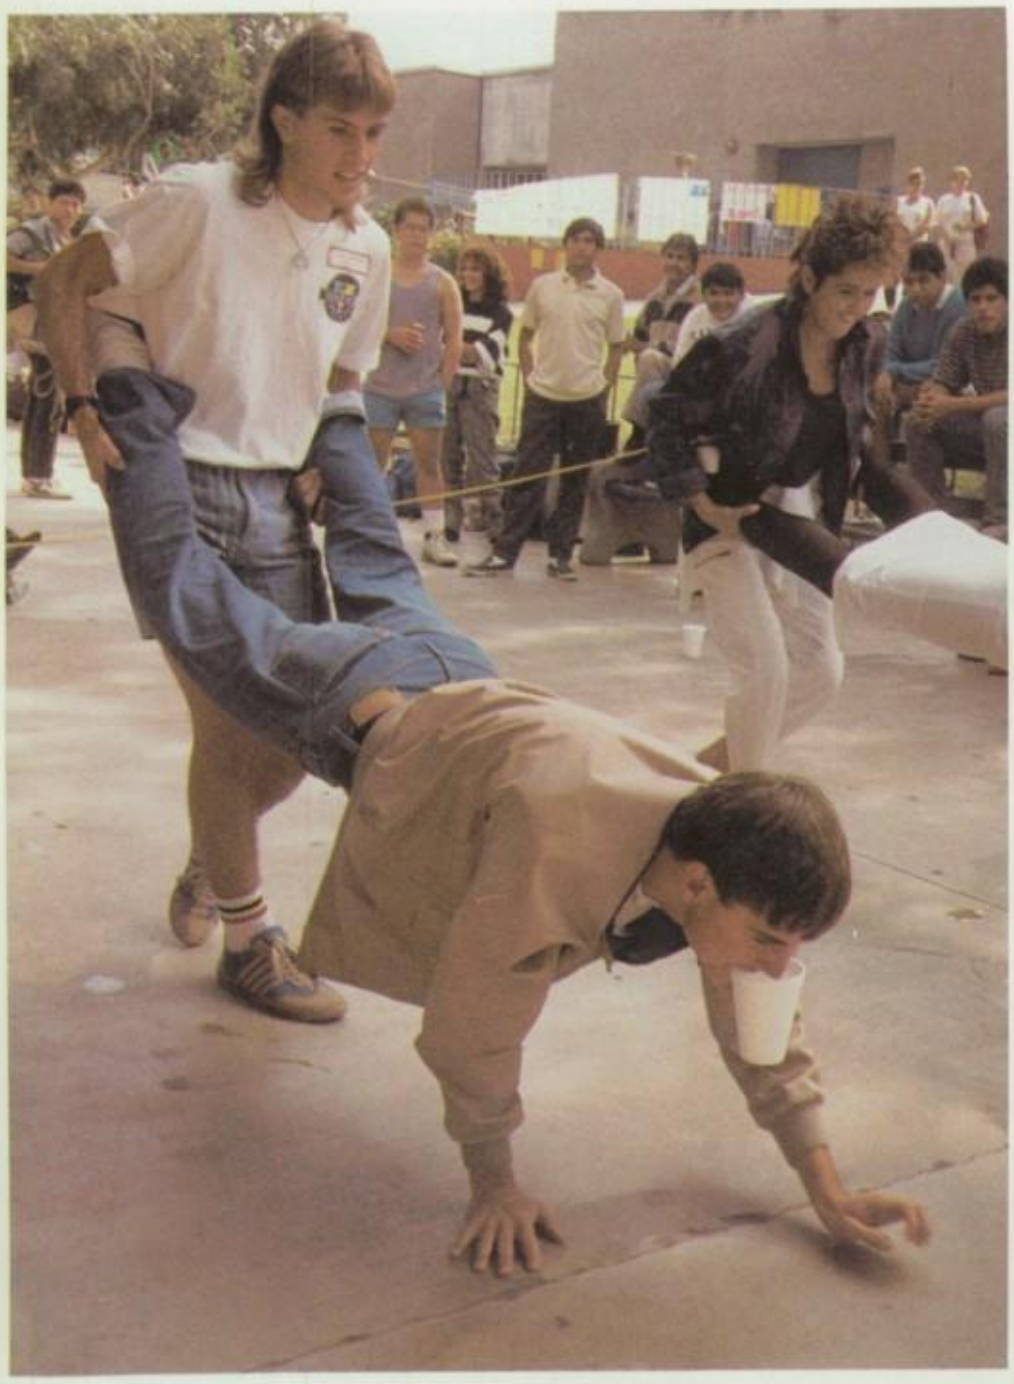
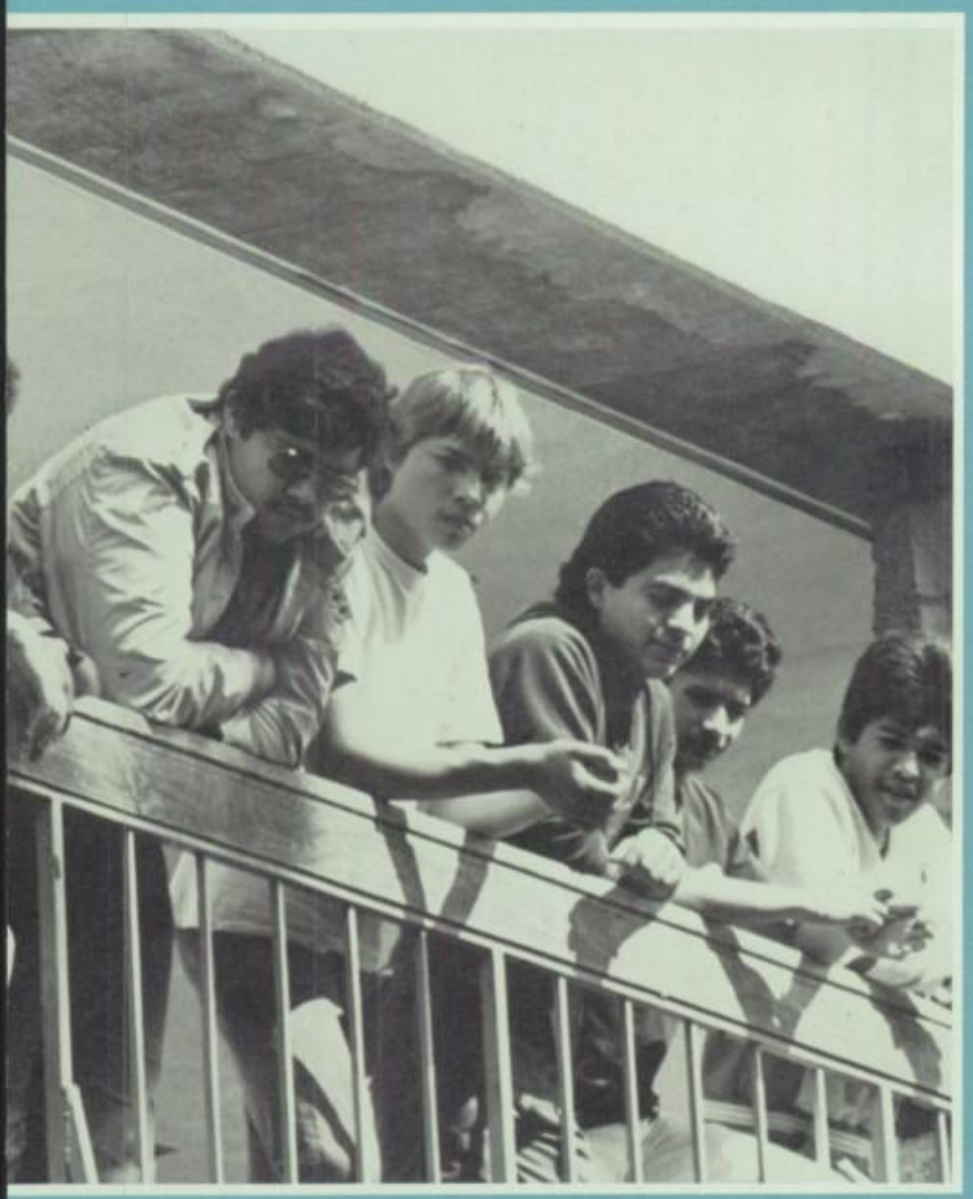
SAN DIEGO HIGH SCHOOL

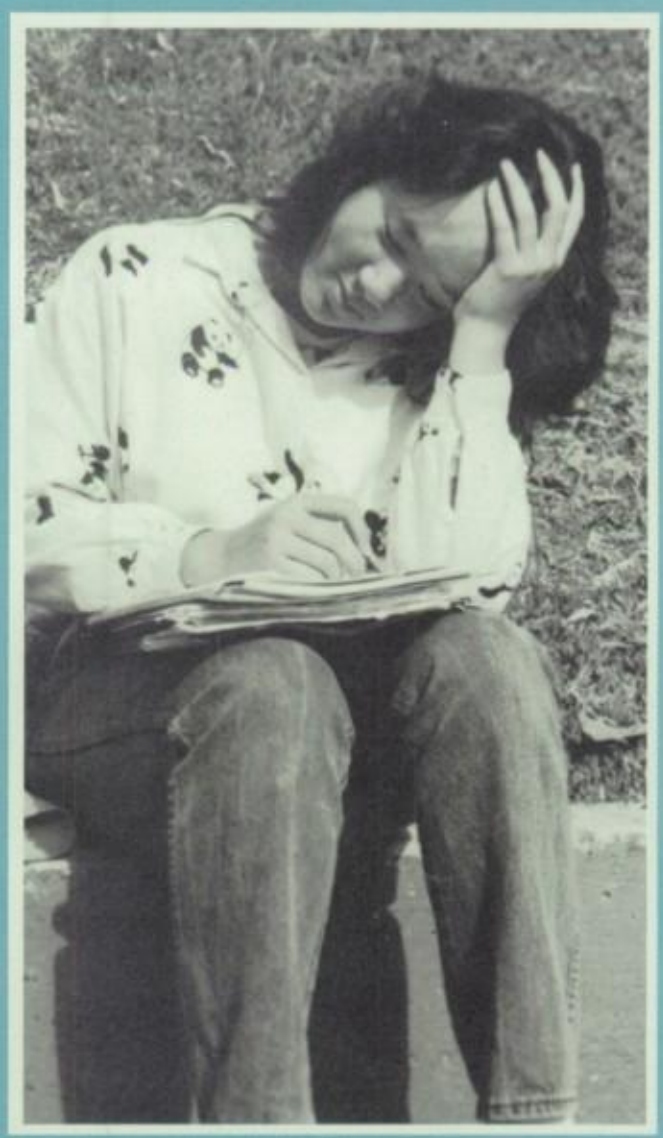
1405 Park Boulevard
San Diego, CA 92101
Volume 77

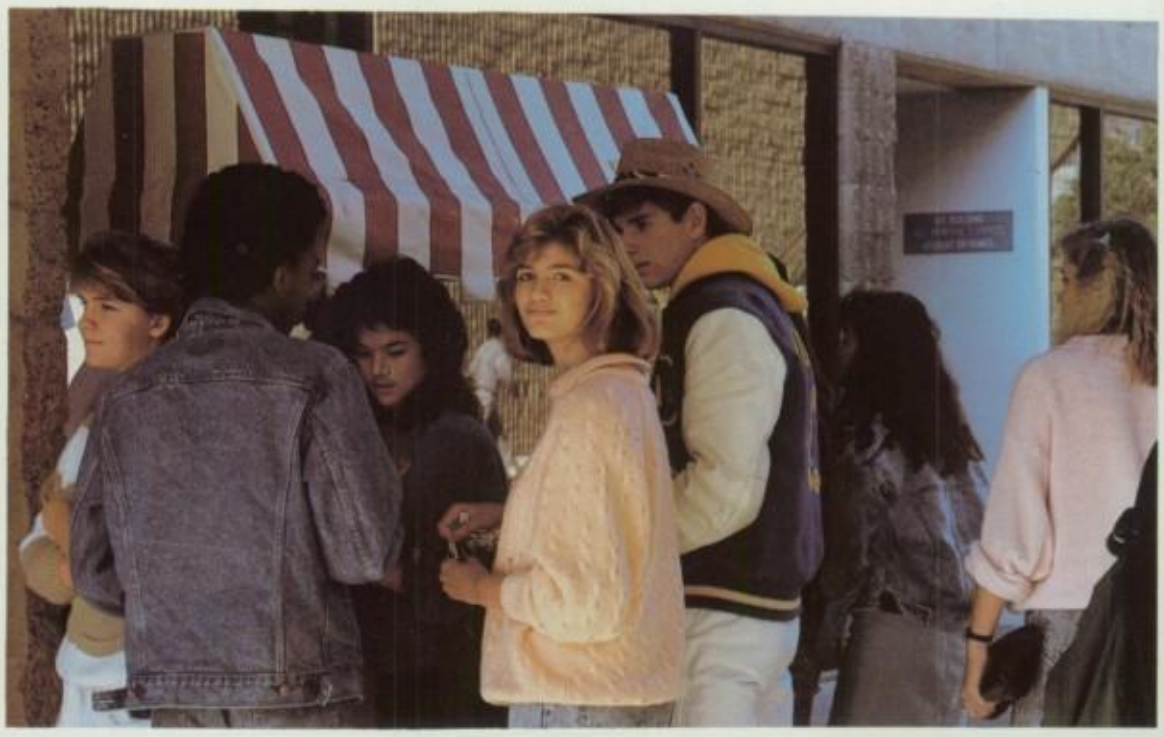


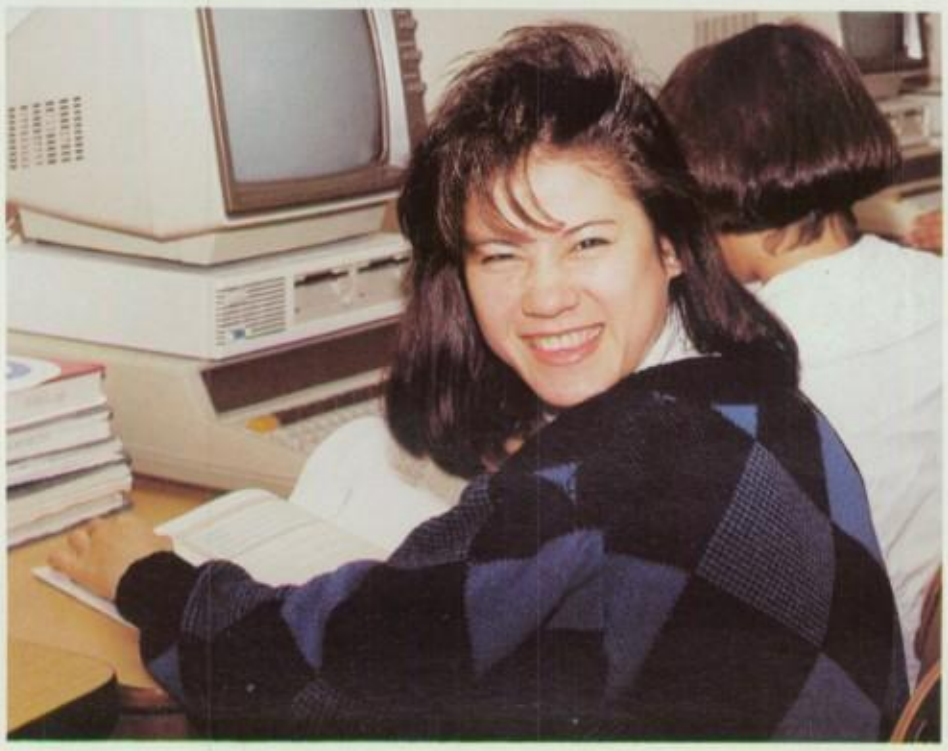
Life at San Diego High was one to be proud of. It included many things that showed us the value of good sportsmanship, pride, spirit, academic pursuits and friendship. As the years go by, we will remember these certain TIMES and they will remain a part of our lives forever. As each one of us continues to grow, we will find ourselves living in a world of responsibility with some sort of destiny to fulfill. It is at that point in time when we will truly understand why San Diego High was the BEST place to start this journey in life. Each of us will remember a different perspective or aspect of these TIMES and they will be etched in our minds as the things that high school days are made of . . . Whatever they may be, they will always be held close to our hearts as "The Best of Times".

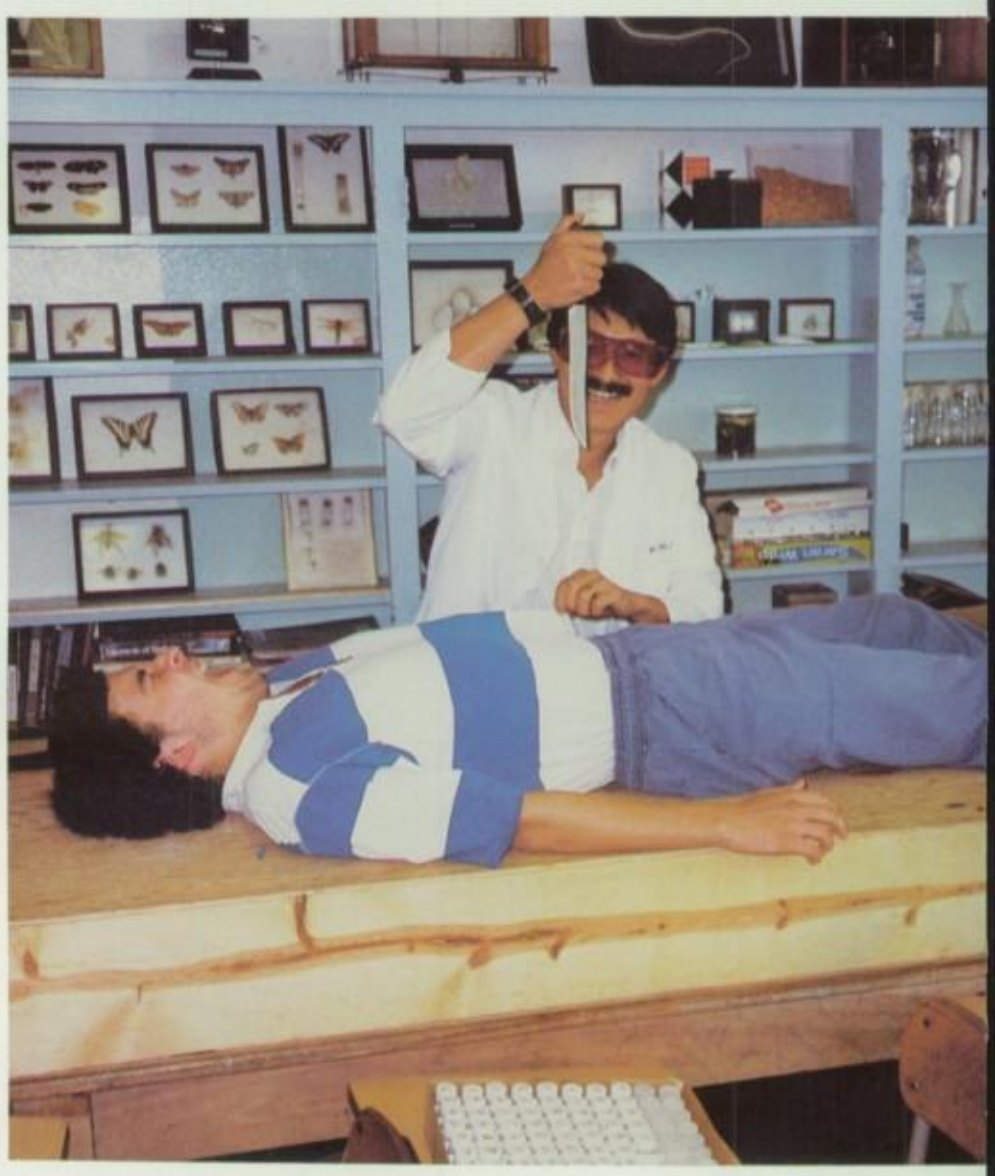
OUT OF THE BLUE

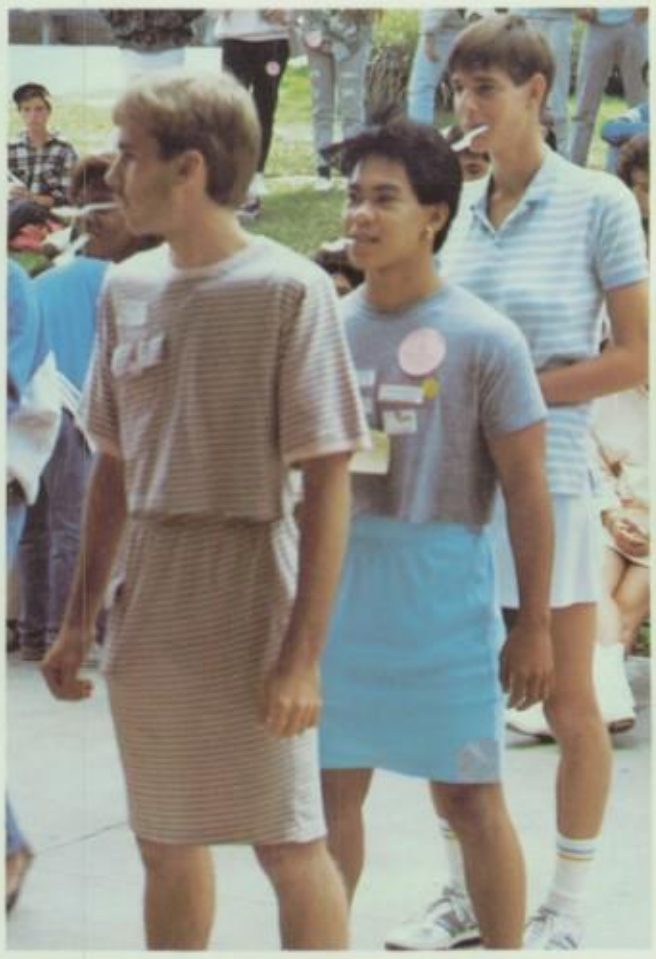












"ON LOCATION"

The theme of this year's Homecoming dance was influenced by the movie industry. Not only was this style carried out in all the advertising and activities during Spirit Week, but it was very evident in the decorum of the semi-formal "On Location" dance. As you stepped inside the doors, you didn't feel as though you were inside a gym because everywhere you looked, there were 3-D movie sets on view. After dancing to "Mid-City", the time had come to crown the King and Queen. Suspense built as the crowd gathered around to hear the announcement. A loud cheer was heard when Joey Gonzales and Yvonne Sanchez were named as the reigning couple.

All court candidates gather before the evening's events start.

The court shares the spot light dance.

HOMECOMING

Sophomore Attendants: Mark Brown and Monique Ardilla. King and Queen: Joey Gonzales and Yvonne Sanchez. Junior Attendants: John Garrett and Sherri Hess.

SPIRIT WEEK

The "Caver Spirit" was enthusiastically displayed during Spirit Week, which was held during the week of October 19-23. Each grade-level sponsored a lunchtime activity down in the quad with a different mode of dress. The Seniors started things off with "Nerd Day" and a wheelbarrow race, while the Juniors declared Tuesday "Opposite Sex Day". It was a rare sight to see everyone in their get-ups, lined up to participate in the jellybean relay! Wednesday found the new Sophomores encouraging all to wear their most unusual hats to join in the friendly tug-of-war competition. A.S.B. took over Thursday with "Twin Day" and had a mystery bag race. The week concluded with "Blue and White Day" on Friday with everyone dressing up in school colors to show their true spirit.

The Junior Class as they move down the yellow brick road during the "On Location" parade.

The all-school Pep Rally was held during period six and accomplished the task of building spirit to its BEST. Eric Show, of the Padres, drew the crowd's attention with his speech on "Being the BEST you can be" with the cheerleaders leading a series of cheers. That night, a large crowd rooted the team on, showing Hoover who had the most spirit. The "On Location" halftime parade had organizations dressed up in the theme of their favorite movies and was a fun time had by all. The candidates for the Royal Court were presented to the student body, only to leave them in suspence as to who would be crowned at the dance.

"As we peruse these pages in search of photographs of friends and other memories, let us not forget to thank the members of the Yearbook Staff. They have provided us with the ability to re-visit this school year at our leisure, and with each passing year this gift will increase in value. Let us enjoy this "stop action" period of a very significant year in our lives and remember always that we spent it together at San Diego High School."

FACULTY

San Diego High's increasing standard of excellence was due mainly to its dynamic Faculty and supportive Administration. They supplied us with a diverse and almost unlimited choice in courses and levels of study and on top of that, strived for academic excellence by means of this all-inclusive curriculum. Credit must be given to them for making sure that San Diego High ranked high amongst the best in competition - be it academic, athletic, or extracurricular. When presented with the most difficult challenge of all - motivating us to participate actively in the learning process, they performed their duties well. It was a full-time effort on the part of our faculty to show each subject in its proper light and everything possible was done to keep the subjects "alive". Taking special care to demonstrate, to guide, and to be inspirational, our teachers were always seeking to find new and better ways to give the subjects taught, deeper meanings. Each of our teachers seemed acutely aware of the fact that dedicated educators bring the future into focus and that they are the ones who show us the way to success through education. We had an enormous wealth and cross-section of talent, interest and accomplishment in our teachers who played the roles of mentors and disciplinarians in our lives. But most importantly, they were there for us as friends, letting us know their human side, which was the greatest gift of all . . .

Row 2: Roger Berumen, Shadona Graham, Vanessa Thein, Molly Manner.

Shadona does a layout for "The Russ".

The Journalism Class met every day during sixth period and worked many long hours. When the debut issue of "The Russ" came out in December, all of their hard work was displayed to the student body. The staff consisted of ten people working as reporters, doing layouts, creating headlines, and coming up with article ideas. Six of those students began their journalism careers for the first time; however, the demands of the newspaper required a lot of responsibility, regardless of experience. News articles, creative writing and photography were some of the featured items in the paper, which turned out to be a good source of communication on campus.

Ms. Webb gives helpful hints to Tonya.

Lucy and Vanessa work as a team on the first issue of the newspaper.

The year's Theatrical Knights got off to an early start with the play "The Foreigner" by Larry Shue. The performances ran thru the first three days of December in the P.A.T. and received "rave" reviews. Later on in the year, Ms. Carr directed the musical "Little Shop of Horrors", which drew sold-out audiences and student Sandy Toyen did an excellent job of directing Woody Allen's comedy "Play it Again Sam". Students also looked forward to the end of the year when they were given a chance to put on a public performance of their own during the One Act Play Festival. They had a peer director in charge of auditioning the parts who was also responsible for all aspects of the performance, including costumes, lighting, and props. If students didn't get a part in the production, they worked behind the scenes. This event gave students the opportunity to put into practice everything they had learned in Drama Class.

Lisa Butler and Pete Rubio demonstrate what "Frenchship" is all about.

L'amitié pour toujours!

Mr. Leonard's Club Francais vowed to make this their BEST year ever. By this, they meant involved - and that's just what they were. They had a continual project with their newspaper, "L'Espirit", which was published every six weeks. They also made a point of attending cultural French-oriented events such as the Cirque du Soiel and the performance of great mime, Marcel Marceau. To make their experiences diverse, they invited a guest speaker to lecture on "Cuisine Francais" and actually went to a French restaurant together. As Kathy Robbins said, "The BEST thing about this club is that you don't have to be enrolled in French class to be a member of the club - all that we ask is that you actively participate." And that, everybody did!

Ms. Allen and her aspiring photojournalists met on an average of twice a week to discuss the art of photography. Every meeting was a lesson in which the various techniques and styles of the medium were discussed. With the guidance of Ms. Allen, the photographers learned how to express their inner thoughts and feelings through this art. With the use of the school's darkroom, the students had a chance to develop their own film and print with original and unique style. Although most of the students only wanted to make the "art" a future hobby rather than a career, they took their work seriously. However, there were always moments that best be forgotten - such as the times when the trauma of splotched, over-exposed film and out-of-focus photos emerged after many hard hours of work. Given time, everyone started to produce their BEST quality shots and now that they're "pros", don't be surprised if you're caught by a Candid Camera around campus!

Under the guidance of their advisor, Mr. Brown, Rondalla continued to serve its dual purpose of being an entertainment group, while at the same time encouraging its members to maintain their bi-cultural heritage. This year's membership had the best group of singers and dancers in its history and one of the reasons for their professional appearance can be attributed to some of the group's alumni coming in on a volunteer basis to share their expertise and advice during rehearsals. Throughout the year, they could be heard serenading the faculty and student body with Spanish versions of holiday songs. One of their most noteworthy performances was given at the Valentine's Day "Concert for Lovers". Tú eres el mejor!

Club Latino-Mecha was the result of two on-campus Hispanic organizations merging together a few years ago. Having the promotion of Hispanic culture and interests of the Hispanic student as its main objectives, the club had an active and involved membership. One of the highlights of this year was attending a convention held at S.D.S.U. This experience gave the club the opportunity to interact and exchange ideas with other chapters from the Los Angeles area down to the Calexico area. The club was open to all students and Mrs. McGuigan and Mr. Neitzel, the two advisors, made sure that along with the club's social activities, the students received leadership training and were aware of the importance of Hispanic involvement at both the school and community levels.

Mr. Murphy making History Club fun!

What is history? Why is it so important to today's growing society? What does a subject that happened 200 years ago have to do with what we are doing today? Most would shrug history off as an irrelevant thing of the past, but not the members of the San Diego High History Club because they view it as the endless investigation and study of a complex subject matter - human nature. The faithful members of the club met every Tuesday to discuss topics that would "boggle" the average mind and Mr. Murphy, the advisor, played a large role in keeping the topics alive, encouraging the students to further explore the unsolved mysteries of the past and present. In addition to their academic meetings, the club arranged trips to various fun places and made their own kind of "history"!

Although our band was small in stature, they made up for it in their heart-felt effort to be the BEST. Since there were only 22 members, each individual section of the band had to work that much harder on perfecting their own part in the repertoire of spirit songs that were played at different events. At the All-School Rally and the halftime "On Location" parade for Homecoming, they showed how a school band plays a very important part in bringing morale and spirit to the team and fans. Practice, dedication and a lot of hard work were all contributing factors that made up this "strengthening bond" and knowing that these two events were very special ones, Mr. Brown and Doug Arbuckle made sure that the challenge to do their best was met. Never fear the "Biggest Little Band" was there!

SCIENCE

The new Science Club was formed to help students explore the different aspects of the Science field and at the same time expand their awareness of the available careers. In addition to this, the founding members intended it to be a vehicle that would help entrants to get an edge on competition in the annual Science Olympiad. Any student who was interested in competing was encouraged to join in the Regional and State competitions, which were held this year at Pt. Loma College and Cal State Fullerton during March and April, respectively. The team representing San Diego High competed in the Periodic Table quiz, the Physics Band, the Model Bridge Building and the Balloon Race in addition to the Pentathlon, Science Bowl and Biological Processing categories. Their hard work and unity in planning and preparation really showed in their results and we thank them for doing their best in repre-

The club was formed for the students who couldn't afford to take Art classes during their busy schedules. The members were given the chance to be creative in an unpressured atmosphere while doing their work with Mrs. McMillen critiquing the final products. There were no restrictions on the type of media that could be used, leaving the choice up to each individual artist. The group didn't spend their time exclusively creating their own "masterpieces", but also took excursions to various institutions of fine art and places of aesthetic interest.

Surf Club

This year marked the third year of existence for the San Diego Surf Club. Are you knocking the water out your ears? Don't worry, you heard right. Even though our campus wasn't next to a beach, it didn't stop the club members from taking the sport seriously. The group flourished with Bruce "Longboard" Cady as President and Alex "Quad" Perez as Vice-President. The club met weekly during lunch, under the guidance of Ron Gallegos, to discuss activities such as fundraisers, contest regulations, and the surfing safaris that they would take throughout the year. The club's goal was to meet weekly at different beaches for all-day surfing expeditions and Mr. Gallegos usually did the judging. However, if the waves and conditions were right, you'd find him out in the water, right beside Steve Bickley, another teacher who had decided to "learn the ropes" of the sport. When asked what aspect of the group's activities would best be remembered, their answer was ... "We will remember days of sizzling burgers on the grill, crystal clear lines forming in the distance, spray in the face, solid round pebbles under our feet at "The Pipes", dolphins in the line-up, and most importantly of all, good friendships." The best way to go!

The motto of this exclusive Honor Society was "Scholarship for Service" and the members lived up to its high expectations in the areas of academic achievement, campus-related activities, and community involvement. This year's cabinet was led by President Chris Bjork, who presided over each meeting, making sure that all projects and commitments were carried out. Since CSF members were eligible for numerous types of scholarships, it was important that they exchanged information on academic requirements regarding the availability of such opportunities. The most prestigious honor that a member can receive is that of being a "Gold Seal-Bearer" at graduation and with that you are the "best" of the Best!

A.S.B.

Few would argue that the lessons to be learned outside the classroom are every bit as important as the ones learned within. The "total" High School experience should involve more than just classes and homework. In order to achieve this, an all-encompassing organization must be created to offer a variety of campus activities for its students to become involved in during their spare time. These activities are an essential part of student life because they bring about a multitude of different opportunities for growth and a series of accomplishments along with lasting friendships. Every student has a certain skill or interest, outside their academic pursuits, in which they excel and they should be encouraged to use these talents. The answer: A.S.B., which is the governing body of elected officers whose main functions are to over-see all clubs/organizations and at the same time, promote school pride and spirit. Using this as a translation of those letters, one could see that our ASB more than "fit the bill". In order to receive such recognition, credit must be given to all the members who attended Spirit Camp in Palomar. The group's new advisor, Mrs. Dunphy said, "Camp was extremely beneficial to our group's unification and it gave us the inspiration to start the year out enthusiastically." And enthusiastic they were ... planning events ranging from lunchtime activities and Spirit Rallies to selling all-occasion candy grams and sponsoring big dances. Two of the group's biggest efforts were put forth at Homecoming time and in the planning of the A.S.B. Ball. "Spirit Week" and all its daily activities, including the All-School Rally held on the day of the big game against Hoover was part of the build-up for the finale - the "On Location" Semi-Formal dance. Being sure to carry out the theme, real 3-D movie sets were brought in to enhance the atmosphere of the event. Looking for a new and different way to "celebrate" the A.S.B. Ball, the officers decided to have a Formal sit-down dinner dance at the Marriott Hotel and Marina. Needless to say, the evening was a huge success and one that would be remembered for quite awhile. When asked what the "key" of this Administration's success was, Hoa Tran and Donna Garfinkel both commented, "It was all the advertising and sincere effort that made each event a success."A.S.B. . . . By the end of the year, everyone knew that these letters meant "The Spirit Behind the Spirit".

Academic League

Louie, Anna and Nam getting ready for the Academic Decathlon.

Advisor Ms. McSwan going over the rules of competition.

The opportunity to demonstrate the commitment to academic excellence beyond the classroom was the premise on which the Academic League was established. Our San Diego High team consisted mainly of I.B. students and Trivial Pursuit partners who competed, in a College Bowl format, against other schools. Racing against the time clock to answer questions in such categories as: Math, Science, History, Literature, Art, Music, and Current Events, our team proved to be very competitive with the other teams in the League and we salute them for exhibiting their best in the county level Academic Decathlon. However, their greatest challenge of intellectual ability was against some faculty members in the annual Faculty/Student Academic Decathlon held on campus!

The Key Club is an internationally known organization that is sponsored by the Kiwanis with "Key" standing for "Kiwanis Educate Youth". The club has maintained its honorable reputation by volunteering many hours of service improving our campus and the local environment within the community of San Diego. With their motto "Dare to Care", our chapter helped to restore the campus fountain and paint the mural in the counseling office. Becoming involved in such projects was also an excellent way to fulfill the service hours requirement for the I.B. Program on our campus. Learning to give of one's self in addition to having the ability to work harmoniously with others were the main reasons that San Diego High's Key Club was so successful . . . just ask any member and they will tell you that it's fun helping others!

Varsity Cheer

Our Cheerleaders strike a winning pose after taking the first place award for the "Best All-Around Squad" at UCA Cheerleading Camp held in Thousand Oaks.

If you followed the girls in blue and white around campus, you would have known that they were the "keepers" of Caver Spirit! Together, in their new uniforms, they blended into a unified squad; but off the field and court each girl was very much her own person. Since Cheerleading was very time-consuming, continued practice and commitment to school spirit were two essential prerequisites for being a part of the squad.

The Varsity gang show their spirit during the "On Location" parade.

Knowing this, the girls decided to take their "devotion" a step further and attended the UCA Cheerleading Camp over the summer. As it turned out, the experience brought the team closer together and after receiving the treasured "Spirit Stick", they also took home the "Best All-Around Squad" Award and eight first place ribbons for various other categories. They quickly set the pace for "Caver Spirit" during lunchtime rallies and the All-School Rally that took place during Spirit Week, not to mention the enthusiasm and faithfulness that they showed to all their teams. No one could deny that they were the "BEST"

Choir

This year's Choir was a small, but energetic ensemble that continually worked on improving its performance abilities. The group started out with only eight members, but ended up with twenty-two members after a large recruiting campaign. Mr. Brown, the director, made sure that the members were exposed to different types of music so they would have a wide repetorie of performance pieces from which to choose. Pop, Soul, Gospel, Contemporary and Classical were just a few types of music that the group studied and used in their performance schedule. Throughout the year, they were able to display their talent not only on campus, but out in the community. In November they participated in the celebration of the San Diego Symphony returning and in December they performed in the Christmas programs that Horton Plaza and Seaport Village sponsored. However, the most exciting event they found themselves performing in was the pre-Super Bowl Extravaganza that Horton Plaza hosted before the big game . . . it was the best of times!

Just ask any student who is involved in the program and they will tell you that its importance goes beyond that because it helps them in their personal growth, vocational preparation and community involvement. Under the direction of its two advisors, the organization was very successful in operating the Blue Castle Restaurant on campus. The money that was raised by them was used for airfare and registration at various National, State and Regional conventions and competitions. They are to be congratulated on their performance, which was always of the best quality.

Led by the co-editors, Hoa Tran and Kellie Boyle along with their new advisor, Mrs. Dunphy, this year's staff worked hard to create a book of memories that no one would ever forget. In order to accomplish this major task, the staff worked many long hours writing copy, creating layouts, developing and printing photographs. With Mrs. Dunphy pushing the staff to the limits of their creativity, Beatrice Sanchez commented, "It was the hard work that made the finished product well worth it." The Best of Times is full of noticeable changes, such as a larger format and additional color pages. However, these pages didn't happen by chance without hard work.

They became a reality through various fund-raising efforts. Before school even began, some of the staff volunteered their time to work the concessions for the "Special Olympics" that were held in our stadium and in September they took on the large feat of sponsoring the first year's dance "Out of the Blue" ... something that had never been done by such a small group. It was a huge success and brought in record breaking crowds! When asked to comment on the book in general, Mrs. Dunphy replied, "We strived to make the book a 'Pictorial Reflection', capturing the students in the act of being themselves and the essence of life at San Diego High."

Junior Reserve

The purpose of our campus Army JROTC Unit was two-fold. On the one hand, the class taught students the many facets of the military such as map reading, rifle drills, discipline training exercises and leadership qualities. The other purpose was to create pride and confidence in each of the program's participants and to teach them how to work together cooperatively to reach certain goals. You'd probably have no trouble identifying these cadets, especially on Wednesday, when it was mandatory for them to wear their uniforms. During the week, the students had their class time divided into classroom subjects, drills and physical training. The hard work put in by all of the units really paid off when our Varsity Rifle Teams, both boys and girls, won various championships. Many of our cadets were awarded trophies and medals for various accomplishments at the Annual Field Day held at the Naval Training Center. Two other events that highlighted the unit's year were the Annual Encampment at Camp Pendleton, where our cadets participated in rugged training just like the real Marines and the Spring Ball, which was held in May at the Scottish Rite Temple.

The Junior Varsity Squad, better known as the "J.V. Bunch", had a great time showing off the burning spirit and loyalty that they had for their teams. A few of the girls said that it was rather difficult at the beginning of the year, since no one really knew one another and that for most of them, it was their first time cheering. Robynne Scott, the captain said, "There have been a lot of improvements in us individually and in all of us as a team." Their long hours of practicing new routines really showed in the enthusiasm and increased spirit that was evident in the crowds at various rallies and sporting events. Along with long hours of practice and drills came close friendships and fun times too.

GERMAN

"Sprechen Sie Deutsch?"

Curiosity of a foreign culture was the basis for creating the German Club. Even though the club membership was small, its members had alot to be proud of. Their accomplishments and involvement on campus kept the club busy throughout the school year. They raised funds to finance their various cultural-related events and outings, rounding out their successful year. Some of the members and their families opened up their homes to house foreign exchange students and were able to experience certain aspects of the German culture first-handedly. One member, Andy Benner, was so inspired by his experience in the club that he is planning to spend the summer at the Goethe Institute in Germany to really get a "taste" of the intriguing culture and the club looks forward to having him share his experiences with them upon his return.

Club MATH

Two highly intellectual students send off brain waves to one another.

This year's Math Club was a welcome addition to San Diego High. Led by math teacher Mrs. Schlesinger, the club met once a week to discuss and explore the unsolved "angles" of math. Beyond delighting one's self in solving difficult mathematical equations, the members became good lunch company for one another. In May, the club went to an Honors Contest at UCSD and also participated in the Senior High's edition of Math Day at SDSU. The "Chalk Talk" contest at SDSU earned I.B. candidate, Stephanie Monroe, an Honorable Mention in Math that she and the club could be proud of.

SWIM CLUB

The Swim Club's main focus this year was to help bolster support for the Swim Team. One attention-getting activity that the club sponsored this year was the "Swimming Awareness Week" in which team members wore different swim paraphernalia each day as an advertisement campaign for the Swim Team. Vice-president, Robert Carter said, "The Swim Club is trying to help people become more aware of swimming and the fact that it is really a sport." Being on the actual Swim Team was not a prerequisite for being a member of the club - in fact, there were a few who joined for the sole purpose of being interested in the sport and wanted to be supportive of the team and its activities.

Everyday when the lunch bell rang, the door to the Student Store opened and DECA was ready for business. You ask what did those four letters have to do with all this procedure? They not only stood for the nationally-chartered "Distributive Education Clubs of America", but represented an elective class here on campus for students who wanted to learn the finer aspects of marketing techniques. In addition to this, the organization served in conjunction with the community by giving the students first-hand knowledge and experience with on-the-job training in their chosen careers. Its members were also encouraged to compete within their chosen occupational field of interest at Local, State and National levels where they came away with a feeling of accomplishment. We are proud to say that two of our students were selected to compete in the finals at the Western Regional Conference this year. Travel, exposure to careers, leadership development, community involvement and lifelong friendships are just some of the benefits that one receives by taking that extra step to become involved in DECA.

Our team presenting their case to the City Council.

This year five members of the ASB involved themselves in "Government in Motion", which was a program sponsored jointly by the S.D. Junior Chamber of Commerce, City Schools and the City Council. The main basis for this program was to allow all the high schools an opportunity to voice their opinions and concerns regarding a pertinent problem that existed on their campus and the surrounding vicinity in hopes that the City Council might be of some aid in finding a solution. Our team took this opportunity to heart and spent many hours doing extensive research on the topic of helping to ease the homeless problem in San Diego. Our team's presentation was truly the best by far with both local newspapers stating that their performance was the "most gripping" of the evening! Congratulations. You guys were the best!

The committe going through a "practice run" on their presentation.

"Out with the old, in with the new and let's look forward" would have been a good theme for this year's Varsity Team. The new coaching staff, led by Bill Williams, was responsible for this enthusiastic approach of putting the team back on its feet again. With only three members returning from the previous year and a mere twenty-three players in total, the team had quite a few obstacles to overcome. With pre-season tryouts starting in early August, only the truly dedicated survived as they found themselves practicing many hours, six days a week with workout sessions and after school field drills all the way through the season. In addition to that, team members were required to attend study hall sessions everyday in order to keep up their grades. Having to deal with defeat is not an easy task for any team, but Coach Williams turned it into a learning experience by focusing on the positive aspects of each game. In doing this, the players learned a lot about improving their techniques and approach to the sport. Despite their final record of 1-9, the team still made headlines in the "Los Angeles Times" with a feature story on our field-goal kicker, Mia Labovitz, who was written up as the "first girl on a Varsity team to score any points in the history of C.I.F. Football". More important than victory on a scoreboard was the team's exposure to the experience of learning to work together as a cohesive unit ... and if they follow through with what they learned, we should have the best team ever next year!

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

A perspective view of our offense and their defense.

Goal place kicker Cynthia Fjeldseth.

The Junior Varsity Team was large in size as well as spirit. Many of the players came from Roosevelt and Memorial and had shortened day schedules in order to play on the team. The main goal of the team was to give the players the opportunity to play while they were still developing their techniques and skills of the sport. Although they didn't have the best season in terms of their final League standing, they had the courage to gut it out and continued to maintain their positive attitude until the end.

JUNIOR VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

Girls J.V. Volleyball had a good season this year with their new coach, Irene Mello, a former SDHS student and former Varsity Volleyball captain. Coach Mello commented, "The girls worked well as a team and were very hard-working, they just needed a little more experience." With the talent they have, our Varsity team should be prepared to have the BEST of them next year.

Although the Girls Varsity Volleyball team didn't win as many games as they would have liked, that didn't get in the way of their grit and determination to go out there and have a good time. John Jones, the team manager, said, "Overall, the girls were hard working and kept trying to get the right combination to obtain the winning edge. Even when the girls lost a game, they were open-minded and kept their positive attitude." Coach Davis added, "We'll have alot of the new girls who played this year coming back again next year, so they'll be use to working together." Jennifer Knott was awarded the honor of being put in the "Hall of Fame" in Balboa Park for her consistency in playing and Lena Harper received the "Coca-Cola Spike" award for her technique in just that. She also was given the "M.V.P. Award" for being the over-all exceptional player this year. Both girls were chosen by Coach Davis. All in all, the team played to the BEST of their ability and we have Coach Davis to thank for turning out this spirited bunch of girls. BEST of luck to you next year!

In order to be a good badminton player you must practice on a continual basis to build up stronger arm muscles, but most importantly - stamina and endurance. Ms. Moore pushed the team to play harder and stronger every day and as a result, they always placed with the top best teams in the county. Although the team had a lot of new players, they worked hard to learn the skills that were needed to be good players. One needs excellent eye and hand coordination and to be very quick on their feet to keep up with the "birdie". This year each team member paid a minimum amount to rent a bus for the whole season and that has resulted in everyone being able to attend all matches.

Boys Cross Country

Our Boys Cross Country team was definitely one to be proud of this year with their over-all record of 8-2 and League record of 4-1. Placing second in the Central League, they went to the C.I.F. Preliminaries where they were raised up to a different division, making them work that much harder. Coach Ramos commented that this year's team was the best he had ever coached because not only did they have the physical ability, but they possessed the discipline and perseverance that it took to be winners. With returning runners like Abraham Rodriguez, Scott Alton, and Sean Tucker helping to retain that winning stride (which was now a tradition for this team), they concentrated on developing the talent they had. The hard work and long hours of training paid off when John Garrett was selected to represent the best of San Diego High's talent on the All-C.I.F. Team where he also placed fifth on an individual basis in the finals.

Our Girls Cross Country team completed a highly successful season. They won the Central League championship with Charaighn Foss, a ninth grader from Roosevelt, advancing to the C.I.F. Finals. Tanya Meyer, Susan Pochett, Dawn Barreras and Charaighn Foss all won medals in the Invitationals. Brenda Henderson, Bridget Gaitan, Yvonne Sanchez, Anna Boynton, Candice Wolovnik, Cassidy Richey and Stephanie Monroe also contributed to many of the team victories throughout the season.

Varsity Basketball

The 1987-88 season marked the return of winning ways to Caver basketball tradition. Through hard work and dedication, the team gave San Diego High fans the most exciting year of basketball that they had had in a long time. Turning out to be the best in years, the team was able to post its first winning season since 1982-83. The opening victory of 94-52 over Castle Park helped to "set the mood" for their dismantling of St. Augustine 81-25. A blending of size, speed, and quickness allowed the Cavers to be very competitive while playing some of the best teams in San Diego, placing second in the Torrey Pines Tournament and fourth in the prestigious Kiwanis Tournament. Impressive inside scoring was provided by Andy Swindall and Milton Miller while Tim Mitchell and Clark James gave brilliant performances at both ends of the court. Outside shooting was consistently seen from Raynard Wells, Jimmy Kegler and Anthony Wines. Added bench strength and depth was provided by Sean Tucker, Dennis Elazegui, Steve Bradshaw and Art Williams.

With a record of 7-3, our Cavers were tied with Crawford High for second place in League Standing. Team work and consistently good ball playing enabled our guys to easily capture that position, which allowed them to advance to the quarter finals of the C.I.F. Tournament. At that, Coach Kane's famous phrase, "It's Showtime" could be seen plastered on posters everywhere and heard echoing throughout the halls by all. Team spirit was raised to it highest as they went on to challenge Mar Vista and La Jolla High and it wasn't until the third round against El Camino that they were defeated. This year's club had much to be proud of - not only did they play good ball, they also returned respectability to San Diego High's basketball tradition. It cannot go without saying that the team's performance was truly a tribute to the coaching of Dennis Kane.

JUNIOR

Basketball

The team hard at practice.

The 1987-88 edition of the Boys' Junior Varsity Team was a combination of size, quickness and hard work. These elements led the team to a winning season. They placed second in the Central League with a record of 13-6 and also placed second in the La Jolla Christmas Tournament. Andre Letchaw, Tirone Young, and J.R. Greer led the inside while Derek Chambers, Deondra Coleman, Marvin Sims and Jason Steffen provided the outside scoring. Bench strength came from Jesus Leon, Christian Hofeditz, Jerome Allen, Wardell Campbell and Dermont Robinson. Overall, the team played with a flair that created excitement for all and performed in a manner that would make all of San Diego High proud of them.

Under the direction of a new coach, Kelly Duel, the team found the beginning of the season to be a period of adjustment. Most of the players were inexperienced, but made that extra effort to give their best. They got along easily and were very supportive of one another, creating good teamwork. Even though their final standing in the League wasn't what they had hoped it would be, the girls felt that they had made the season a successful one.

The team began its third season with high hopes for a winning season. Although they suffered many disappointing setbacks, the girls kept their spirit up throughout the season, practicing daily and participating in several tournaments. There was quite a cross-section of experience amongst the girls with two of them being three-year season veterans. In addition to this, the team consisted of one second-year player and four first-year players. Cooperation in practice and understanding of one another's abilities were the main reasons that the girls felt good about the team as a playing unit. Upon ending the regular season, the team went on to the playoffs, but lost to Mar Vista High in the first round. In spite of their League standing, Coach Hines and the girls were pleased with the season as a whole. Captain Roya Bruce summed it up when she said, "I never stopped believing in this team. We're proud of ourselves and all that we were able to accomplish."

The girls listen intently to Coach Hines' strategy.

Wrestling involves many hours of physical conditioning, most of which is done during practice. However, if you are to be a good wrestler, you've got to live it twenty-four hours a day, as diet and one's mental state make up a good part of how well you perform on the mat. Unlike other sports, wrestling is a very individualistic type of competitive sport. Although practices are held as a team, a wrestler's performance is his own "win" and then the team's win. Our Cavers know what this whole philosophy is about with League Champion John Cherne leading the team along with his fellow captains Alex Solis and Abe Rodriguez. Coaches Adair and Hembera both commented that this year's team members all showed tremendous improvement throughout the course of the season. Rumor has it that next year will be even greater with the outstanding talents of the Juniors who are returning.

Coach Hidalgo had many of his players wondering if they were on a soccer team or at "boot camp" with all the workouts. However, they knew that in the end, all the conditioning would build them into better players individually and as an overall winning team. Winners they were . . . undefeated in the Central League competition, which took them onto the C.I.F. Playoffs. They also placed second in the La Jolla Holiday Tournament, which helped lift their competitive spirit. The team's pride, enthusiasm and determination to do their best made every game exciting for the spectators and more challenging to the players. When asked what the key element was that led them to victory, the team stated that it was Coach Hidalgo's motivation that gave them the inspiration and drive to make them the best!

The best word to describe this year's Girls Soccer Team would be "awesome". They came in second in League standing with the record of 7-1-2. With the help of their new coach, Buzz Clevenger, they practiced and worked diligently as a cohesive unit. Their cooperative teamwork and perserverance led to their "historical" victory over Christian High and enabled them to qualify for the C.I.F. Playoffs. In addition to the team's outstanding accomplishments, Carrie Wakefield gained notoriety in the L.A. Times as "Player of the Week".

Janelle Rollinson viewing the action from the sidelines.

Carlye Stein manuvering around her opponents to get a clear shot.

Team Captain Paige Folkman commented, "Every year that I've played on this team, it has gotten better and I'm sure it will be an even greater pleasure to watch next year!" When asked what helped "spur" them onto the League status they achieved, the team gave full credit to the constant support they received from their coach and fans in addition to the Boys' Soccer Team, who helped them keep the "Caver Spirit" alive.

Luke Pingle shows good form in his backhand return.

Watching number one singles-seeded player, Louie Nguyen smash the ball over the net or Joe Madden and Casey Kindred play doubles looked so easy, but in reality these guys plus the rest of the Boys' Tennis Team worked hard and tough to win their matches. Practice started with warm-ups of sixty sit-ups and ten laps around the tennis courts every day. Afterwards, if the players weren't involved in League competition, they set up matches against one another with the winners getting a luke-warm soda and the unfortunate losers having to run another ten laps. Coach Burnett was quick to help his players gain the winning edge by reinforcing better techniques constantly and encouraging his players to play to the best of their ability at all times because as player Alan Johnson put it, "If you get the attitude that you already have the game in the bag, the easiest shots will be the hardest and you'll lose the game."

Maritess shows off her perfect form as she hits a forehand in afternoon practice, where such drills were regularly scheduled.

The team decided to give Coach Lee Donn the best that they could offer during his final year as coach. During the pre-season workouts, the team was full of energy and ready to win. The captains, Mimi Thuay and Maritess Elazegui, led the exercises, running and tennis drills during their sixth period practices daily and their hard work finally paid off. Results: All team members qualified for the Central League Championship. The first-seeded doubles team consisting of Mimi and Maritess finished second, while the entire team finished third in their league. Finally, the doubles team qualified for the CIF Championship where they won their first match against Chula Vista, but lost the next against Monte Vista. Although they may not have come out on top in the ranking, the girls' personalities, friendliness and good sportsmanship made them the real winners. Overall, we know that the team tried their best, gave their best, and in our opinion, came out the BEST.

The Boys Track Team deserved to be commended for a job well done this year. Not to be outdone by the Girls Team, they were also 2-2 during pre-season competition. To top that off, they won 17 medals and placed third in the Hilltop Meet. Coach Stout kept a list of "The Best Ever", in which Jimmy Kegler's name was placed for being a CIF finalist along with the "Best Sprinter" and Damon Carson's name showed up for setting the school's record for The Triple Jump. Coach Locher was the supervisor who saw to it that the team members were always ready for their events. In addition to this, Coach Ramos was in charge of the long distance runners and helped bring up their endurance with very long practice sessions. All in all, the team's performance was one of their best in years.

GIRLS TRACK

The "Best Ever" was a list that every member of the team wanted to have her name on and Coach Stout was the "keeper" of this prized document. In order for one's name to appear on this prestigious list, you had to perform outstandingly and that's just what Tanya Meyer, Renee Henderson, Dawn Black and Mia Labovitz did. Tanya made the "elite" list for her performance in the 800 meter, Renee for her time in the mile, Dawn for her Triple Jump and Mia for her time in the 400 meter. The team fared well in pre-season with a 2-2 standing, placing third in the Hilltop Meet and bringing home 36 medals. With help of Coaches Davis, Ramos and Stout the girls performed outstandingly all season long. With many of the girls returning next year, the team hopes to take first in League Championship and to beat long-time rival Crawford High.

Webster defines swimming as "the act of moving through water by using the arms and legs". Each member of the Swim Team used every muscle in their body to validate this definition and to bring pride to the sport of swimming. Due to some complications, the team began their "actual existence in the water" late, but they conquered this obstacle by working their muscles out with surgical tubing. When they finally did begin their practice in the water, the pool's heater had not been turned on . . . thus began the season! With only three days to practice before their first competition, they devoted all their time working on their starts, strokes, and turns. With the help from Coach Burant and Assistant Coaches Belinda and Valerie, their hard work paid off in early season victories over Southwest and Sweetwater. During practice the team was arranged into three different lanes depending on skill and ability level. As the swimmers progressed throughout the season, they advanced into the next lane, attempting to get into lane #1. This system helped to easily demonstrate the overall improvement of the team as the number of members in the "fast lane" increased from three people to ten later on in the season. Team captains Lisa Akiyama and Robert Carter worked individually with each swimmer to perfect a "specialty" stroke and a few of the swimmers learned enough about every stroke to enter the Individual Medley. As the season progressed, a special comradeship developed amongst the members and the best of friendships flourished.

GOLF

If you passed by Balboa Golf Course, you'd probably see members of the team practicing either at the driving range, the putting green, or out on the course itself, as that's what practice consisted of. When the team wasn't in a League match, the individual team members played practice rounds against one another. In order to improve their games, Coach Hines made sure that the players concentrated on specific shots and strategies during their challenge rounds. Senior, Justin Hicks, who last year ranked second in the county for his age-division and was one of the four representatives from San Diego to play in the Junior America's Cup, continued to play outstandingly this year . As we went to press, the team's League standing was 2-2 and we wished them the best of luck!

The Varsity Team was full of expectations and a winning spirit. With only two veteran players, Sean Tucker and Brian Baird, the team lacked in only one area - experience; however, that didn't hold them back from showing the rest of the League that they were serious competition to be dealt with. The pre-season went well for the team with a 7-3 record and found them participating in the GMC Tournament and placing second in the Lion's Tournament. Third-year veteran Sean Tucker commented, "We're on the map now and have gained recognition due to our hard work and determination to be a winning team." Dan Ignosci joined Coach Lopez on the coaching staff and together they presented a perspective of pride and the true meaning of sportsmanship that the team would eventually take on as its "modus operandi" with each of the players working to the best of his ability.

JUNIOR BASEBALL

This year's team was described by Coach Scranton as being "young, energetic, willing to learn and having great potential for growth". With an early season record of 3-1 in Central League and 5-2 overall, this team continued the San Diego High tradition of good baseball. The philosophy for the team was to teach skills not only for baseball, but for life. These skills included a positive attitude, a strong mental discipline and a high level of expectation. The team was also fortunate enough to have three assistant coaches who brought with them knowledge from their playing years and were always there to help and give support to the players. The team, as a whole, worked well together and as we went to press, hoped to end the season in the best of standing.

There were problems to be ironed out in the beginning with the team's quickness in running and inconsistent hitting; however, as the season wore on, there were tremendous improvements in all of the girls' skills. The team's new coach, Brian Russo, commented that even though some of the girls were inexperienced, they all tried really hard and put forth their best effort in every game. The team's focus was not only on winning as many games as possible, but on developing good sportsmanship, discipline and comradeship, which are all important elements in a winning team. If they remain a group of hard working and enthusiastic players, we know that they will go far this year and in years to come.

GIRLS VARSITY SOFTBALL

This season promised to bring new life to our Girls' Varsity Team even though a majority of the team was young and inexperienced. A record-breaking number of potential players showed up for try-outs, making it very easy to fill the team with good players. Having three different coaches in three years, it was Coach Hembera's turn to fill the girls with the type of spirit and motivation that would "spur" the team onto playing their very best. After weeks of practice, the team started the season out optimistically. Returning seniors Jennifer Knott and Amy Lange set a good example for their teammates when it came to dedication and putting forth their best effort. Team member Krista Kay commented, "Even though we didn't place first in the League, Coach Hembera must be given credit for teaching us the true meaning of success . . . teamwork."

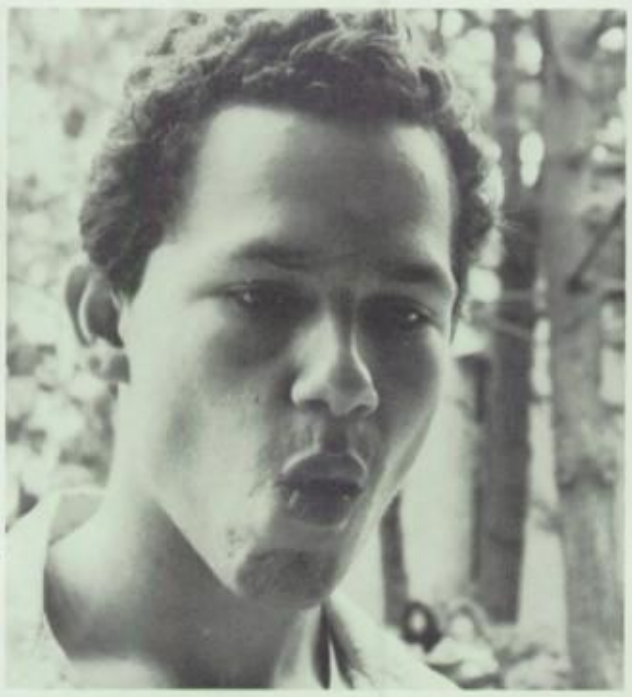
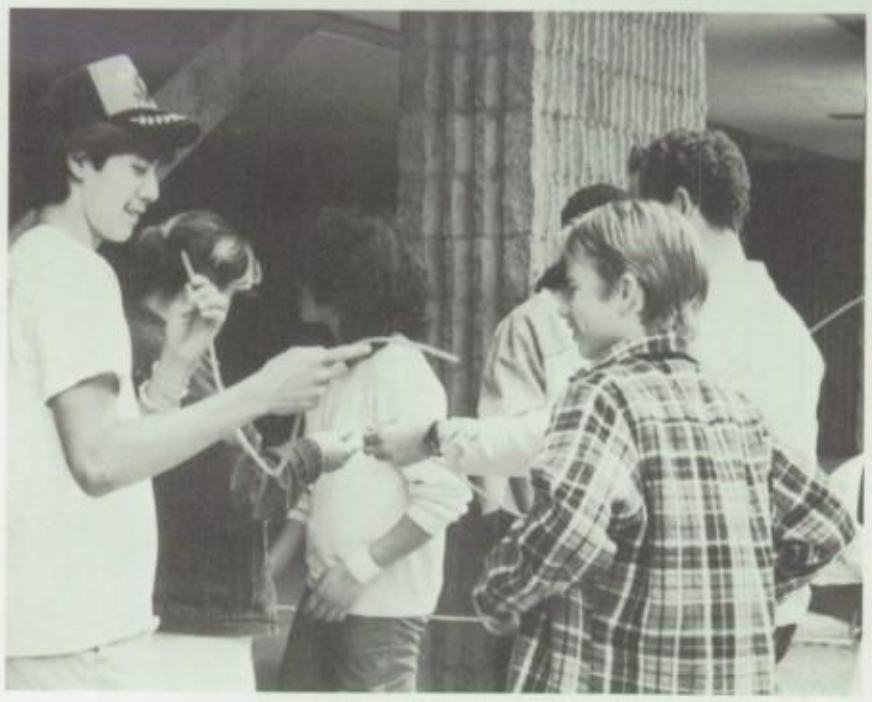
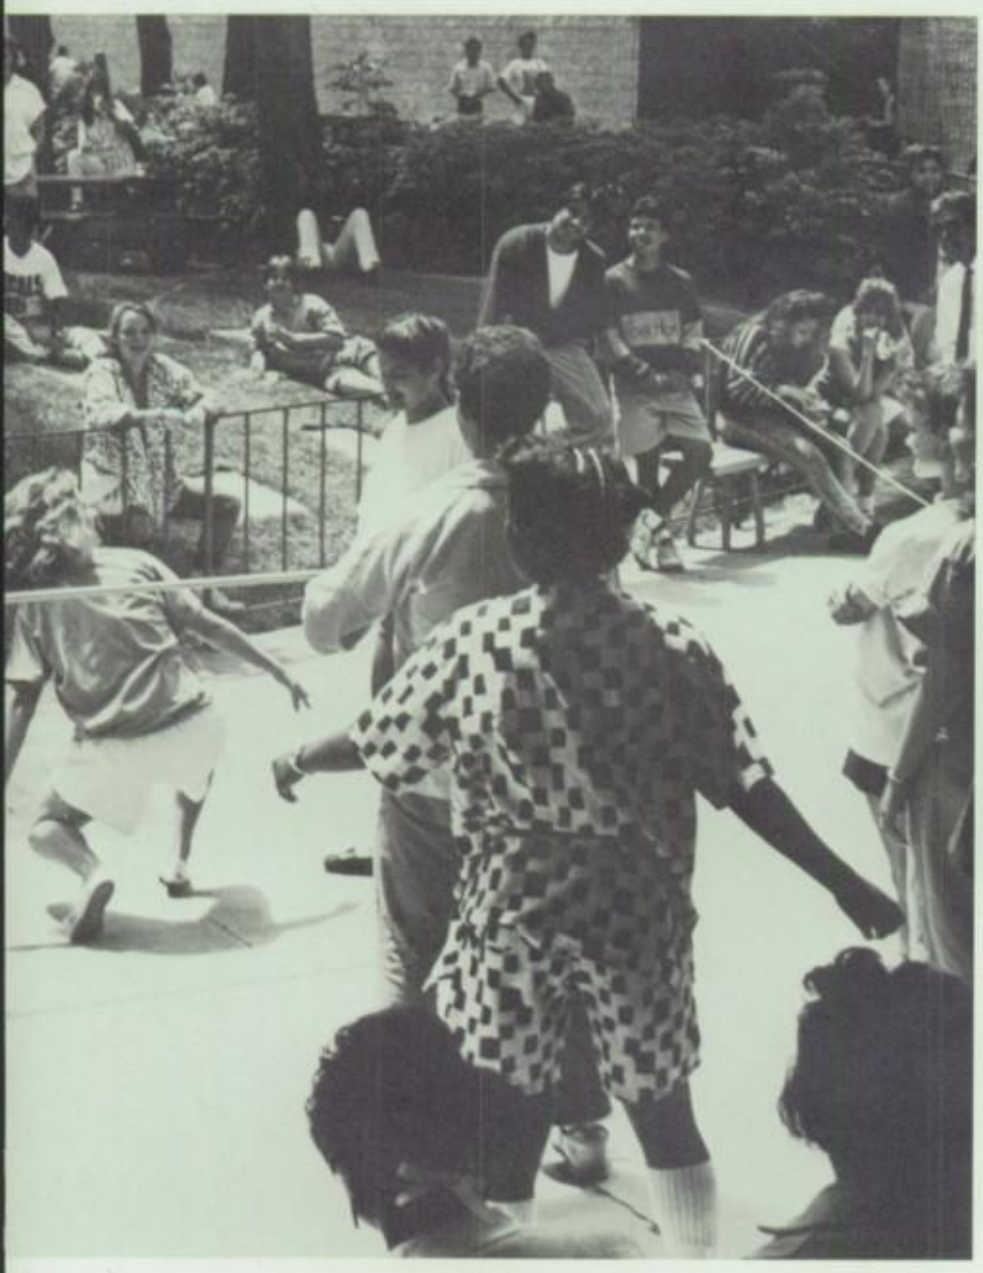
SPIRIT WEEK







Sharing some special moments with friends.

"Illusions" was this year's theme for the ASB Ball, which was held at the San Diego Marriott Hotel in April. When planning the annual event this year, the ASB wanted to do something totally different and decided on a formal sit-down dinner dance. The evening began with the stylish guests entering the Marina Ballroom where they were surrounded by a sea of balloons floating above beautiful flower arrangements donning elegant silver Mardi gras type of masks at each table. After everyone had chosen their dinner table and were waiting for the first course to be served, Coach Lopez strolled from table to table performing magic tricks carrying out the "Illusions" theme of the evening. Dancing began after dinner with the dance floor never being emptied until it was time to introduce the King and Queen finalists. The king, Richard Reyes, was crowned first with the queen's crown being presented to Ana Lopez. All in all, it was an elegant evening that would be remembered by everyone . . .

The crowd eagerly awaits the announcement of King and Queen.

"Nature's first green is gold,
Her Hardest hue to hold.
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down to day.
Nothing gold can stay."
